MCBW 2020 ends prematurely

Nuremberg/Munich – Yesterday evening, the German Chancellor made a public call to cancel smaller events with less than 1,000 participants, thereby minimizing social contacts as a whole. As of today, the Bavarian authorities still tolerate events with up to 500 participants. Nonetheless, the MCBW team has asked the program partners to postpone or cancel their remaining MCBW events at short notice. Since the development regarding the corona situation is extremely dynamic, prevention is the order of the day.

The MCBW 2020 will therefore end today.

"We thank all visitors for their interest in the MCBW and all our partners for their stellar commitment, but also for understanding that we had and still have to deal with a situation that is challenging for everyone," states Dr. Silke Claus, Managing Director of bayern design, the organizer of the MCBW.

The next MCBW will take place from 6 to 14 March 2021.
